

SULZER CAN SAVE MULRANEY'S LIFE; WHITMAN CAN'T

Man Convicted of "Paddy the Priest's" Murder May Get Reprieve.

District Attorney Whitman will take no action to help "Happy" Jack Mulraney, who is doomed to die in the electric chair next Friday for the murder of Patrick Breen, a west side saloon-keeper, better known as "Paddy the Priest." The entire matter will be not up to Gov. Sulzer for whatever action he sees fit to take. It is no longer in the hands of the District Attorney.

Mr. Whitman to-day received a report from Assistant District Attorney J. Robert Rubin, who last night took the statements of three witnesses who swore Mulraney could not have been at the scene of the crime, and that he was physically incapable of killing "Paddy the Priest."

The three witnesses, who were brought to the Criminal Court-House at 5:15 last night by Assistant Superintendent of Prisons McCabe, were questioned by Rubin because he tried the Mulraney case. They swore that at the time of the murder Mulraney was so drunk he could not have killed the saloon-keeper.

If a stay of execution is granted Joseph A. Shay, Mulraney's attorney, could then move for a new trial on the grounds of newly discovered evidence.

Nicholas J. Doyle, No. 32 East One Hundred and Sixteenth street and William Kelly of No. 121 East One Hundred and Fifty street, have told Mr. Rubin that they saw Mulraney's companions that night, and when they took him to his mother's home in One Hundred and Eighty street at 12:15 he was so drunk they could not get him in bed and had to leave him on the floor, his mother placing a pillow under his head. His mother is ready to swear he was in the room senses all night. They said they were ready to testify at the trial, but no one gave them a chance. Mulraney's lawyer says he now has a witness who can tell the name of the saloon-keeper's slayer and give evidence if necessary.

"Happy Jack" undoubtedly will get a new trial, if not a full pardon, it is believed.

TUMULTS IN NEW HOME.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—While Joseph P. Tumulty, President Wilson's Secretary, is getting started in his new work, Mrs. Tumulty is settling herself and six children in her new home on Calvert street. She was unable to come to Washington in time to fix up the home herself, so she called on a friend—the wife of a New Jersey newspaper man—to do it for her.

The Tumultys sold off all their household goods before leaving Jersey City, so the friend here was commissioned to furnish the Washington home from top to bottom. Mrs. Tumulty said she was delighted with the results.

VOTE FOR HUNGARIAN WOMEN

BUDAPEST, Hungary, March 7.—The Lower House of the Hungarian Parliament today adopted the Suffrage Reform bill introduced by the government by which a large number of women are enfranchised.

The Hungarian capital was crowded with troops during the debate in consequence of threats uttered by the Socialists to begin a general strike throughout the country as a protest against the non-introduction of universal suffrage. No disturbances occurred during the day, but the population being overawed by the great display of force.

HIS CLOTHING AFIRE, AGED MAN FIGHTS HIS RESCUERS IN FRENZY

John Bogenschutz, Seventy-five Years Old, Expected to Die of His Burns.

John Bogenschutz, seventy-five years old, father of Judge Bogenschutz of the First Municipal Court in Williamsburg, narrowly escaped being burned to death this morning and will probably die from his injuries. It has been the custom of the old gentleman to arise early in the morning and make coffee for himself. While he was starting the fire in the kitchen stove this morning his clothing caught fire and before he was rescued he was burned about the head, face and other parts of his body.

Mr. Bogenschutz lives with his son Joseph and his family at No. 81 Commercial street, Williamsburg. His crisis brought to his aid his daughter-in-law, who tore down the portieres between the dining-room and kitchen and tried to wrap them about the burning man. In his agony the old man fought her off and her wild screams brought her husband to her aid.

Joseph Bogenschutz seized an overcoat and endeavored to smother the flames, but the old man fought him, too. Finally, husband and wife succeeded in getting the flames out and in placing the old man on a couch.

Policeman Heid heard the cries and went in a hurry call to St. Catherine's Hospital. Dr. Weinberg responded with the ambulance and pronounced the burns of Mr. Bogenschutz fatal. At the request of the son, the old man was left at the house and the family physician was summoned. The dying man, a one of the oldest settlers in the Greenpoint section.

WOMAN DIES ON BARGE.

Unidentified, Captain Says He Had Given Her Shelter.

Capt. Andrew Skillingstar of the barge Hare, at dock at the foot of East Thirty-second street, walked up to Policeman O'Shaughnessy at First avenue and Thirty-second street early today and told him a woman, whom he knew only as Maggie, had died on the barge during the night.

When the policeman went to the barge he found the poorly dressed body of a woman of middle age lying on a couch in the cabin. Skillingstar, who had been living alone on the barge during the winter tie-up, told the policeman he had met the woman last Wednesday night and had answered her plea for shelter by taking her aboard the barge.

The barge captain was detained at the East Thirty-fifth street station pending a Coroner's investigation.

HAD TO LET MAN DROWN.

Weight Tears Giovanni's Victim From Rescuer's Grip.

A cry of distress was heard early today by Night Watchman James Gorman, who patrols the docks along Gowanus canal in Brooklyn. The cry came from the foot of Sixth street.

Gorman rushed to the dock there and heard some one splashing about in the water. He went down a ladder to the water's edge and seized the wrist of a man in the water. Holding with his left hand to a rung of the ladder, he attempted to pull the man up with his right hand, but the task was too much for his strength.

Gorman tugged for several minutes, the man in the water struggling all the while. Finally the watchman, fatigued, relaxed his grip and the man sank.

Saved From Wrecked Barge.

BOSTON, March 7.—A northwest gale blew the barge Whitman, owned by the Degan Transportation Company of New York, ashore on Devil's Back at the entrance of the harbor today. The three men of the crew were taken on with some difficulty by the towing tug Fred E. Richards.

FEEL SHAKY, BILIOUS, HEADACHY, OR CONSTIPATED? TAKE CASCARETS

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver, delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous, constipated matter, gases and bile generated in the bowels, instead of being carried out of the system, are reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, sickening headache.

Cascarets remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the bile and constipation poison move on and out of the bowels. The effect is almost instantaneous. Ladies, whose sensitive organisms are especially prone to sick headaches, need not suffer, for they can be quickly cured by Cascarets. One taken to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel bright and cheerful for months. Children need Cascarets, for they love them because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.
